DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-7 and 11-16, drawn to a method of detecting an antibody, classified in class 435, subclass 5.
    - Further restriction is required from claim 10. Applicant is required to elect one of SEQ ID NO: 5-8.
  - II. Claims 8-10, drawn to an antigen polypeptide, classified in class 424, subclass 184.1.
    - Further restriction is required from claims 13 and 14. Applicant is required to elect one sequence from the p24 region and one sequence from the p40 region. For example, Applicant may elect SEQ ID NO: 1 from claim 13, and SEQ ID NO: 3 from claim 14.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product, or 2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP 806.05(h)).

In the instant case polypeptide can be used in a materially different process of using, such as inducing an immune response in a test animal. Further, a search for the polypeptide will not necessarily reveal methods of detecting antibodies. Literature that speaks to the characterization of open reading frames is not expected to discuss methods of detecting antibodies.

Regarding the restriction between sequences in claims 10, 13 and 14, a search for all of the sequences, regardless of their respective degrees of homology to each other, would be a serious burden on Office resources. Since the sequences are not identical, each one would require a separate search through all of the sequences in all of the existing databases used at the PTO.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the literature and sequence search required for Group I is not co-extensive for Group II, and therefore a serious burden, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143). Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

3. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See “Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b),” 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
